The Greater Waterbury YMCA provides information to youth about proper boundaries between adults and their peers. There are a few steps youth can take if an opposing party tries to break these rules or violate their boundaries. Through our policy, we provide parents information on how to protect their children from abuse. The YMCA's policies related to staff and youth interaction and between their peers include how to recognize warning signs of abuse and how to respond to their peers if they suspect abuse. The YMCA provides several ways to report concerns. They may directly speak to the Youth & Teen Development Director Edna Walton at (203)754- 9622 EXT 124. They also may contact Sr. Director of Operations at mtedesco@waterburymca.org or at (203) 754-9622 EXT 157. They may talk privately with them or to any other staff directly or may anonymously express their concerns by phone or by depositing a note in our suggestion box. We have established procedures for responding to any concern.

I have read and understand the liability waiver and code of conduct.
